Gluten free app launched for iPhone, iPad & iTouch

Mark Lyall · Thursday, January 6th, 2011

Gluten allergies have seemingly increased over the last decade or so. More and more people are experimenting with gluten free diets as a way to avoid the allergy. With the emerging need, various food companies and restaurants have introduced gluten free food products for gluten allergic people. As we know iphone apps are on boom irrespective of industries to provide the easy and simpler way to consumer to reach the information they are looking for. Recently G-Free Foodie, a resource for living Gluten-Free and eating well, has introduced Gluten Free app for iTouch, iPhone and iPad devices. The app is called “Gluten Free Ultimate Solution”.

The Gluten Free Ultimate Solution app makes the life easy for consumers who love to eat outside out but restricted due to gluten allergies. The app provides locations of US Gluten Free Restaurants near the user’s location via GPS and Search Features, and offers hundreds of Gluten Free and GFCF Recipes, many with photos or video.

Visit G-Free website http://www.gfreefoodie.com/ for more information on Gluten Free Ultimate Solution app and gluten free products,

Besides, there is another Gluten Free app called "Gluten Free NYC" was launched in 2010 for those who are living or visiting NYC with a gluten allergy.

The app provides a complete list of what appetizers, entrée, desserts, brunch items, and pre-fixe menu items are safe for consumers to enjoy. The major features are-

- Over a dozen restaurants with a GF Menu
- 40+ restaurants that can accommodate GF requests
- Restaurant contact information, including location, phone number, website, and business hours
- An Interactive Map
- Health Food Store Locations
- Browse through 28 different types of cuisines including Chinese, Italian, and Organic Search by Neighborhood or by Cuisine

I am sure people concern with gluten allergy will certainly download the Gluten free apps and enjoy the gluten free dishes in their favorite restaurants.
